Short description

The general target of the project is to increase the company's competitiveness, reduce carbon emissions during production by creating preconditions for the development and marketing of innovative and more environmentally friendly products in both foreign and domestic markets. Specific goals of the project are to develop compactors and environmentally friendly containers with higher added value, outstanding design and technical properties, and to take Birger's management systems to a new level.

The result

The planned investments in product development and management systems will enable Birger to create new jobs in the region and to increase turnover and added value.
